

Our office has enthusiastically participated in the plywood cup for the last two years. We take competition very seriously, and the whole office got "on board". As "Pirate 'r' us" we pillaged and plundered our way to the treasure of top fundraising prize, (and stole another teams tools as well). The following year we entered as a group of stranded castaways. Gilligan and clan built a pontoon craft to get us back to civilization. Our efforts earned us the peoples choice award and a soggy Gilligan.

Participating in a event such as the Plywood cup, gives our office group at Robinson Residential Design Inc. an excellent chance to do teambuilding, and work together in various capacities together. Coming up with a creative design with limited materials, and time is just the kind of challenge that gets our creative juices going. Our design theories start several months in advance, and we have been known to build a prototype and test it on the mighty Wascana. The Plywood Cup lets us be 'big kids' for a day, and raise money for great charities in the process.
